Flinders University offers many courses, workshop and other training opportunities for its general and academic staff and students. To enrol in workshops or training of any kind at Flinders University, start at the home page pictured below and click on the “Teaching and learning” link.

This will take you to a page full of information and resources for teaching and training at Flinders, including a link to the Course Calendar which will have all the available courses conveniently placed on a month by month calendar.
By simply clicking on the arrows at the top of the calendar, the following page will give information on every course that is being offered for that particular month with the option to navigate to future and/or past months as well.

Once the desired course has been located, merely click on the link and you will be taken to a page describing the chosen course in full, including learning objectives and date, time and venue details. Click on the “enrol now” link and complete your FAN and password details.
This page will also provide information on any future courses that have been scheduled in the system.

In the monthly view, the system may indicate in red that the event is full. In this instance, merely click on the link as above and if other events have been programmed, you will be able to enrol directly from this page, for another session. Alternatively a link will show you how to place your name on a waiting list for the next event.

If you are searching for a particular workshop and it is not easily seen on the calendar, the course stream, e.g. Learning and teaching, can be accessed on the left side bar of the screen. This will give a detailed listing of all the courses for that area of teaching.
By using the search engine within the Flinders site it is also possible to find a course with no scheduled dates and take advantage of the "waiting list" option. Once another date is set within the iEnrol system, an automated email will be sent out informing you of the details and will supply a link to enrol in the workshop or training session.

This system also provides details of all other workshops and training completed while at Flinders. To access this information, you must first log in to the system by clicking on the "Log in" icon at the bottom of the side bar at the left of the screen.

This will then open another window that will give details of all the courses you currently have listed against your name.
By clicking on "My history" link on the side bar, all the workshops and training attended while at Flinders University will appear.

The Centre for University Teaching (CUT) offers workshops related to Teaching and Learning. All courses and workshops advertised on the Course Calendar are accessible by general and academic staff within Flinders University. Faculty and School-based workshops can also be arranged. If you have any questions regarding these opportunities or any Teaching and Learning workshops or if you would like to suggest a course that you feel may be of use to the wider community, please contact us using the information below.

Centre for University Teaching

Director
A/Professor Heather Smigiel

General enquiries
Trudy Prosser (Personal Assistant)
Email: cut@flinders.edu.au
Phone: 12731