Tayenebe weaving workshops at the City Gallery

Workshops held February 11 & 12, 2012 with visiting Aboriginal weavers, Zoe Rimmer and Nannette Shaw, attracted both novice and established weavers from across Adelaide. With over 60 participants involved across the weekend, instructors did a fabulous job in guiding the creation of many new works. The opportunity to engage with the weavers, learn more about the exhibition Tayenebe and the revival of weaving skills among Indigenous women in Tasmania was widely appreciated. As stated by one participant:

> Wonderful workshops at the weekend. I am as proud as punch of my kelp basket and it was wonderful to be taught by such gifted artists. Thank you.
