HUMANITIES
Academic & Professional Communication (COMS1001)

Are you looking for a university wide elective topic that will improve your writing skills?

Here is what some students have said about COMS1001:
“The in class activities were very helpful in testing our understanding; the constant feedback helped me most; the easy and welcoming environment and having a teacher who explained everything clearly; every aspect of this topic helped me learn; brushing up on proper grammar was good; it gave me a clear understanding of how to write and think critically”

COMS1001 is offered in Semester 1, 2, and Summer Semester.
For more information contact: jo.willis@flinders.edu.au