How to use IntelliConnect

IntelliConnect provides electronic access to a range of reporter, or loose-leaf, services on many topics – from family law and corporations law, to tort law and industrial law. These include detailed commentary on the law, as well as the full-text of relevant legislation (with history and case references) and key cases.

Please note: more loose-leaf services are available from the Law Library Readings Collection – just ask at the Information Desk.

Accessing IntelliConnect

- Go to the Library Homepage at www.flinders.edu.au/library
- Click on Databases (under Finding)
- Scroll down to CCH Online (under Major Full-text databases) and click on

If you are accessing from off-campus, you will need to type in your Flinders University barcode OR your email name and password when requested.

Browsing CCH Online

The first screen you will see has a list of different ‘Libraries’ that you can select to search. Simply click on the topic you are interested in...

...and then select the type of information you are after. This may be

- Commentary about the law
- Full-text of the legislation with quick links to commentary
- Full-text of key cases

You will then see a list of topics (or legislation or cases) on the left. Simply click on the icon to view more specific topics and then click on the heading you are interested in – the information will appear on the right.
Advanced Search

If you are looking for something in particular, you can try using the 'Search' bar - simply:

1. Type in your search terms in the box at the top of the screen

   Tip: click on 'Search Options' for search tips

2. Tick the box next to the subject area you are interested in

Results

The results will appear in order of relevance and shows you the first few lines of each entry. Simply click on the heading to see all the information.

This page also allows you to narrow your search by document type (cases, commentary or legislation) and by library (so the various commentary services available).
