

Flinders Master of Health Administration - RACMA Study Program 2017

The RACMA core subject requirements are:

- Health Law and Ethics
- Health Economics
- Health Care Systems
- Financial Management in Health
- Epidemiology and Statistics
- Research Methodology
- Leadership

Master of Health Administration Topic (all topics are weighted at 4.5 units except the Management Project)	Semester delivered in 2017	RACMA core requirement
HACM9100 Leadership in Health and Aged Care Incorporates leadership, systems thinking, HR, IR	S1	Leadership
HACM9101 Leading Organisations in Health and Aged Care Also includes project management and change management	S2	Leadership
HACM9102 Financial Management and Economics in Health Care (for more in depth coverage of economics enrol in additional elective)	S1	Financial Management in Health and Health Economics
HACM9200 Health and Aged Care Systems and Policy	S2	Health Care Systems
HACM9201 Health Law and Ethics (for more in depth coverage of ethics enrol in additional elective)	S1	Health Law and Ethics
HACM9202 Safety and Quality in Health Care Also includes risk and governance	NS1
HACM9207 Health and Aged Care Operations Management Incorporates some statistics	S2
HACM9300 Strategic Leadership and Management in Health and Aged Care includes leadership (including ethical leadership), systems thinking, governance, strategy, marketing and change management	S2	Leadership
HACM9301 Management Project/Research Project (9 units) incorporates use of relevant research methods	S1 & S2	Research Methodology
Electives MMED9103 Introduction to Biostatistics for Public Health MMED9104 Introduction to Epidemiology for Public Health	S2 S1	Epidemiology and Statistics

NB Information correct at 2 December 2016: subject to change. Please check topic websites for the most up-to-date information.