Communication Tips

If you look around at your co-workers, you may notice the workforce has become more diverse. At first you may feel uncomfortable around someone who seems different than you. Here are some tips to keep the lines of communication open:

Remember that everyone wants to be treated as individuals and judged on their own merits.

Try not to think in terms of "them" and "us". This will lead to tension and resentment.

If you are evaluating a co-worker's job performance, focus on what they do, not who they are.

This is a chance for you to learn and expand your experience.