1. Preamble

1.1 Academic status is the award of an honorary title by the University given in its absolute discretion to recognise an ongoing contribution of a suitably qualified person to an academic program of the University.

1.2 There are two categories of academic status: "Full Academic Status" and "Adjunct Academic Status", the criteria for which are set out in clause 6.

1.3 Academic status titles may not be awarded to the following:

1.3.1 short term visiting academics, those who have only a casual or short-term association with the University, or

1.3.2 those who do not have relevant academic qualifications and appropriate skills and experience, or

1.3.3 current full-time members of staff who, to recognise their academic contribution to an area of the University other than their own, may be awarded Affiliate Status in accordance with the University's guidelines.

2. Definition

Academic status is the award of an academic title in recognition of an ongoing academic contribution by an individual as defined in clause 5 to an academic program of the University.

3. Conditions

3.1 The award of academic status does not create or imply an employment relationship with the University. However, a person who is awarded academic status must comply with University Statutes, By-Laws, policies and procedures, including the staff Code of Conduct.

3.2 The award of academic status carries with it entitlements and responsibilities as detailed in this policy, and as determined by the College Vice President and Executive Dean. The Vice President and Executive Dean, through the Dean (People and Resources), will have superintendence over the activities of a person who holds academic status. Where a matter extends beyond a College, an awardee will be entitled to hold office or represent the University as authorised by the Vice-Chancellor.

3.3 Any responsibilities undertaken by the awardee for the supervision of higher degree by research candidates will be governed by the Higher Degrees by Research Policy and HDR Supervisor Policy.

Any responsibilities undertaken by the awardee for supervision in relation to the research component of a postgraduate coursework program of study will be governed by the Research Components of Postgraduate Coursework Awards Policy.

3.4 Academic status will be awarded for a specified term up to a maximum of three years initially and may be renewed after review by the College. It may be reviewed at any time and renewed or rescinded in the University's absolute discretion.

Academic status may be rescinded by notice in writing to the holder:

- 3.4.1 if the circumstances under which it was awarded no longer apply or will cease to apply in the near future
- 3.4.2 if the holder has not complied with this policy or any other statute, policy, procedure or other requirement of the University, or

Examples include academic supervision of a group of students in a clinical placement program, or ongoing teaching within a particular topic or part of a course by a professional with specialist expertise in a particular field. The award of adjunct academic status may be the subject of an agreement between the University and another organisation. The following criteria will apply:

6.2.1 the awardee must hold appropriate academic qualifications and demonstrate a suitable level of knowledge or skills in a relevant field, to be assessed with reference to relevant Academic Profiles that apply for an equivalent level academic staff position, and
