Agreement of Material Overlapping Policy for Honours

The Honours education at the School of Biological Sciences aims to train students with broad disciplines rather than to make the student become an expert in a narrow field. Therefore, it is the school policy that the research proposal and the literature review should cover a different subject area with the thesis research project. To fulfil this policy, students need to meet with the supervisor(s) and their two assessors to reach an agreement on the chosen topics for the literature review and the research proposal at the start of each of these topics. The topic must be approved on the basis of academic judgement and all assessors and supervisors have to sign off on it before the student commences writing. At the time of submission of either Literature Review or Research Proposal, this Agreement of Material Overlapping Policy must be also signed and attached.
