A short introduction to…

Making the most of NAPLAN

4:00 – 6:00pm | 2 September 2011 | Flinders in the City

This is one of a series of seminars for educators presented by the Flinders Centre for Science Education in the 21st Century (Science21) on a range of aspects and issues in education.

Featuring: Professor Martin Westwell and Associate Professor Debra Panizzon
Science21 Team

Presenting: Making the most of NAPLAN

NAPLAN has become a part of the school environment. This seminar uses research to inform approaches to NAPLAN in schools and the ways in which we can use the data to inform teaching and learning. The seminar has been designed with school leaders in mind but is open to all teachers.

Cost: $30 for the first person from each school and $25 for additional staff from the same school. Grab a cup of coffee on your way in. We’ll buy you a drink afterwards if you’d like to continue the conversation at the Medina Grand (the Treasury) across the road.

Bookings and payment through https://www.flinders.edu.au/finance/ipay/ (click continue to product catalogue and then Science21, Conference Payment and Product List)

For further details contact Deb Lasscock (deb.lasscock@flinders.edu.au) or Mark Ward (mark.ward@flinders.edu.au)

Venue: Flinders in the City
1st floor, 182 Victoria Square
(the old Reserve Bank building) on the corner of Flinders Street and Victoria Square.