To: Participants in the Management and Leadership Program – 2012 Launch

I will be launching the 2012 schedule for the Management and Leadership Program at 12.30pm this Friday 17 February 2012, at The Beachouse at Glenelg.

As you are aware, the purpose of the Program is to provide a forum for discussion and information-sharing about issues and strategies that are important in managing and leading your Schools now and into the foreseeable future.

The feedback about the Program has been very positive and it is evident that its objectives are being met. However, a very important element of the success of the Program is your engagement with it and I expect you to continue to give it your top priority.

The event this Friday gives me a valuable opportunity to talk to you about the year ahead over an informal lunch. This will be followed by a presentation and discussion about University research. Professor David Day has prepared a very comprehensive presentation and this will form the basis of a discussion about the issues for Flinders.

I ask that you also note that the next event will take place on the morning of Tuesday, 20 March 2012. This session on “Understanding and Managing Risk” will include a presentation by our Chancellor, Mr Stephen Gerlach. Around this time, the University will be undergoing its WorkCover Audit and there will also be a heightened focus on OHS due to proposed changes in the legislation. These are important issues and it is essential that managers are up-to-date and well-informed.

I strongly urge you to make arrangements to attend the events that are scheduled for this Program in 2012.

Regards,

Professor Michael Barber
