Master of Clinical Audiology

You will be part of a dynamic team of multi-disciplinary professionals in providing holistic care to patients with hearing disorders and families. You will perform comprehensive audiological assessments and provide aural (re)habilitation for both adults and children with hearing impairment. You will conduct audiology-related scientific research and participate in training and education with a team of professionals. You will recommend appropriate hearing technologies to individuals with hearing impairment and carry out clinical administrative work.

Tenure of Award
The scholarship will be tenable for up to 2 years in a university in Australia.

Conditions of Award
Upon graduation, the candidate will be appointed to work in SGH as an Audiologist for a period of 4 years.

Eligibility
- Singapore Citizens/Permanent Residents
- Strong interest and passion to develop a career in healthcare
- Science students with outstanding Diploma / GCE 'A' and 'O' level results
- Good track record of co-curricular activities
- Strong leadership qualities and excellent interpersonal skills
- Excellent university results
- Good Honours Degree in at least one of the following disciplines:
  Science  Speech Pathology
  Engineering  Education of hearing impaired
  Psychology  Medicine Linguistics
  Nursing

For more information, visit www.sgh.com.sg/careers or email sponsorship@sgh.com.sg