2011 Public Lecture Series

The Faculty introduced its 2011 Public Lecture Series with a very well attended presentation given by Professor Neil Brewer, Dean of the School of Psychology, on Tuesday 10 May. Held at the University’s Victoria Square Campus, the lecture entitled ‘Mistaken Identity: How to use police line-ups to nab the bad guy, not the good guy’, drew more than 70 guests from a variety of backgrounds, including judges, police, magistrates, defence lawyers, students and the general public.

Professor Brewer reported that identification tests, in the form of line-ups, are used in criminal investigations by police forces around the world. Sometimes witnesses identify the bad guy and sometimes they don’t; and on some occasions they identify an innocent suspect.

During the lecture, Neil drew on an extensive body of eyewitness memory research, including his own extensive work, to highlight the main determinants of eyewitness identification accuracy. He also provided a step-by-step guide to conducting identification tests in a manner that reduces the chances of eyewitness error.

To highlight the chances of ‘getting it wrong’, Neil showed a short video clip of a youth trying to break into a car, and asked the audience to identify, from a line-up of 5 suspects, the would-be thief. Over 50 per cent of the audience identified the wrong person.

Reporting a hazard

Identifying and solving general OH&S issues
Staff members should raise any issues about safe working procedures or a safe working environment with their immediate supervisor. Any person may draw a safety matter to the attention of the area supervisor or the elected health and safety representatives (listed below). In the event any of these staff being unavailable, please contact Vickie Armstrong, Management Representative/Chair of the Faculty OH&S Committee.

Work Group 1: (SSN) – nominated staff member to attend relevant H&S training
Work Group 3: (SSS) – Chris Hankel - BA Office (#12519)
Work Group 2: (LWCM) – Ludek Seda – Flinders Business School (#12882)

Health and safety representatives
Flinders University encourages and facilitates the election of Health and Safety Representatives to represent staff on health and safety matters. Elected Health and Safety Representatives are responsible for:

- representing staff from their work group on health and safety matters;
- investigating health and safety related complaints;
- making representations to management and reporting back to staff on health and safety matters;
- discussing with staff workplace proposals or matters which may affect their health and safety;
- assisting managers and supervisors to identify hazards, assess risks and implement risk control measures
- monitoring risk controls, and health and safety policies and procedures.

If a supervisor is unable to resolve an OH&S problem, then he/she should refer it to his/her supervisor for assistance. Health and Safety reps play an active part in this resolution process. Advice may also be sought from the OH&S Unit.

Accident/incident reporting: A form is available at www.flinders.edu.au/ohsw/reporting/. This form is to be used by staff for recording details of any incidents or accidents and once completed should be forwarded to your supervisor for comment and authorisation. The completed forms are sent to the OH&S Unit Consultants for appropriate action.

Training opportunities & requirements

Supervisor training
OH&S Supervisor Training must be completed by all staff and those who have completed the online course more than five years ago are required to re-do the course. Access the training package at: www.flinders.edu.au/ohsw/training/suptrng_reg.cfm

Manual handling training
Two-hour session scheduled for Monday 11 July (10 am – noon) in 240 SSN. Please contact Vickie if you wish to participate in this beneficial training session. First aid/other specialised training.

Courses for other OHS topics may be arranged as required. Senior First Aid certificate holders are reminded to keep their training up-to-date and staff who would like to be trained in first aid are asked to contact Vickie Armstrong who will liaise with the OH&S Consultants regarding the booking process.

Workplace inspections

As part of the OH&S Action Plans, the Faculty is required to participate in the annual workplace inspections to ensure all staff are working in a safe manner with safe systems of work. During the next few weeks you may be visited by one of the staff assisting with the coordination of this process. Reports will be provided to the Chair of the Faculty Committee for actioning. Staff cooperation is much appreciated during these inspections.

- The narrow focus of ‘profane’ media studies on semiotics and consumption ignores the extent to which culture is rooted in our deep yearning for the sacred, argues Eduardo de la Fuente in an article which is due out in the Times Higher Education Supplement 2 June 2011.

- Damien was also interviewed on BBC radio about this research and the BMJ press-released it so it was picked up fairly widely (Google "Damien Riggs knife" to see how widely it went!).

- This book utilises ideas from post-modernism and post-humanism and challenges current ways of thinking about animals and their relationships with humans. Including contributions from across the social sciences the book encourages readers to reflect upon taken for granted ways of conceptualising human relationships with animals.

Presentations

Professor Anthony Elliott (Sociology) recently delivered a public lecture at the City University of New York titled “Globalization and New Individualism”. Whilst in the USA, he also took part in a Symposium at Yale University on the topic of Charles Lemert’s (Adjunct Professor, Flinders Sociology) new book “The Structural Lie”.

In May, Anthony was invited to give a Masterclass at University College Dublin on the topic “Reinventions of Identity” and he also delivered a lecture in the UK at the Open University, “Mobile Lives and Social Futures”.

"Eduardo de la Fuente was invited to deliver a Public Lecture at the University of Ateneo, Manila, on the topic of his new book, Twentieth Century Music and the Question of Modernity (Routledge, 2011). He will stay as a guest of that institution for two weeks in June of 2011'.

Fulbright Scholarship Program

Fulbright Applications for 2012 open on 1 June 2011 (closing date 31 August 2011).

The Fulbright Scholarship Program is one of the largest and most prestigious educational scholarship programs in the world.

Established by the US government in 1946, it now exists between the US and 155 countries. The Australian-American Fulbright Commission is supported by the Australian and US governments and a variety of corporate sponsors.

Between 20-25 Fulbright Scholarships (A25,000-A$45,000) are annually granted to Australian Postgraduates, Senior Scholars, Postdoctoral and Professional Scholars and a similar number of Postgraduate and Senior Scholarships for Americans to study in Australia.

RHD students can undertake a program of 8-12 months towards their Flinders Masters/PhD in the US and the scholarship value of those students is up to $42,000, so it is a really good opportunity. Previous recipients have said one of the great benefits is the research links they build in US universities.

Postgraduate – up to A$42,000
For postgraduate students to undertake research towards Australian postgraduate studies or to enrol in a US postgraduate course. This scholarship supports an 8-12 month program.

Postdoctoral – up to A$42,000
For researchers who have completed their PhD in the last 5 years to undertake postdoctoral research in the US. This scholarship supports a 3-12 month program.

Senior Scholars – up to A$35,000
For academics (at Associate Professor or Professor level) to undertake research or teaching at US institutions. This scholarship supports a 4-6 month program.

Professional – up to A$32,000
For mid-career professionals in the private and public sector to undertake training or research programs in the US. The scholarship is open to people in academic institutions whose primary research focus is professional or industry based. This scholarship supports a 3-4 month program.

For more information about the program go to the Fulbright Commission website where forms and guidelines are available: www.fulbright.com.au

2012 Fulbright Scholarship in Climate Change and Clean Energy (Aust)

To undertake postgraduate study or research in the US. Valued up to USD 65,000

The 2012 Fulbright Scholarship in Climate Change and Clean Energy is for Australian citizens who wish to undertake 8-12 months postgraduate research or study in the US towards an Australian degree or enrolment in a US higher degree. Applications are invited from graduates with a background in the humanities or social sciences and whose research is focused on the social and economic responses to the impact of climate change and/or the development and adoption of clean energy technologies. Eligible fields may include but not be limited to economics, law, engineering, social sciences and public policy.

2012 Fulbright South Australia Scholarship

To undertake postgraduate or postdoctoral study or research in the US. Valued up to USD 40,000

The Fulbright South Australian Scholarship is open to Australian citizens who are residents of South Australia to undertake 8-12 months of postgraduate study or research in the US. The applicant can undertake research related to their Australian PhD or enrol in a postgraduate degree in the US.

Projects should focus on topics or issues relevant to South Australia, clearly articulating the benefits of such study and research to the State, as well as Australia.

The program of research / study can commence any time between 1 July 2012 and 30 June 2013.

Fulbright Scholarships include:
- National Orientation Program and a Fulbright Presentation Dinner
- Enrichment Seminars in the US with international Fulbright Scholars
- Distinguished professional network with US and Australian Fulbright Alumni Associations
- A support agency in the US that assists with visas, events, and networks
- A J1 visa that allows Fulbright Scholars to work in their field in the US for a further year following their study
- Media support and publicity

Vice-Chancellor's Postdoctoral Research Fellowships

Applications close: 4:00pm, Monday, 27 June 2011

The Flinders University Vice Chancellor’s Postdoctoral Research Fellowship Scheme is a new initiative to build the University’s research and to support outstanding early career researchers seeking to commence an academic/research career. The scheme focuses on outstanding early career researchers who would normally be within 5 working years since completing their Doctoral qualification. This will be a highly competitive scheme and applicants are expected to have a strong track record relative to opportunity. A start-up grant, to be negotiated, may be provided to successful applicants.

Fellowships are expected to be aligned with the University’s areas of identified research strength, listed with contacts, in the guidelines.

- 4 Research Fellowships available
- Appointments of 3 years full-time research, with possibility for 4 year appointments with a teaching component
- Salary (Level A/B): $57 693 to $87 836 pa (full-time)
- Plus 17% employer superannuation

Application forms, position description and guidelines can be downloaded from Research Services Office website.

Academy of the Social Sciences in Australia (ASSA) call for proposals for workshops

The Call for proposals for workshops between July 2012 and June 2013 is now open.

The closing date for applications is Friday 21 October 2011.

The Workshop Program is a principal component in the Academy’s promotion of research in the social sciences. Academy workshops are small gatherings of those working at the cutting edge of social science research. It is expected that a diversity of perspectives will be presented from the variety of social science disciplines, and that the emphasis on invited participants will be on active researchers in the field.

Its purpose is to advance knowledge through in-depth discussion, and to promote its application by the dissemination of workshop outcomes through publication. It is expected that the ideas and research discussed at the workshop will be rigorously debated and that they are open to scrutiny by scholars within the social sciences and others. The Academy expects:

- Papers presented at workshops be readily available in the public domain, with appropriate attribution of opinion by the participants.
- Encouragement, where appropriate, be given to participants to develop policy statements. Such statements are intended to act as 'signposts' rather than detailed prescriptions; advice that suggests appropriate strategies grounded on sound social science research or advice that furthers the debate on issues that may require policy intervention or consideration by Government. Such advice is also seen to promote awareness-raising concerning social research and the potential benefits for decision-makers in policy development.
- All workshops, even those with a clear policy outcome, will be strongly rooted in the social sciences.

The Workshop Format is interactive, normally held over two days, and includes a dinner at which further exchange and discussion can continue informally. Inter-disciplinarity is expected and the topics and participants should reflect this. It is expected that participants will include:

- Established researchers and leaders in their areas of expertise.
- Early career scholars who are challenging and/or adding to debate.

Participation is not limited to academics, and where appropriate, representatives from Government, community and private sector who are experts on the issues should be invited. This is particularly relevant if there are policy and practice components to a workshop program.

Numbers are limited to around 15 to 20 participants to allow for meaningful exchange of ideas and extensive in-depth debate. All participants must attend the entire workshop program.

Please note that workshops are not public forums.

Workshop applications will be assessed upon their themes, quality and range of participants, and expected outcomes.

Workshops will be funded to a maximum of $7,500.

Funding is for workshops to be conducted in the period 1 July 2012 - 30 June 2013.

Queries relating to the Workshop Program should be addressed to:

Project Manager (Workshops, Public Forums)

Developing Educational Technology

Flinders is developing new governance structures for Information and Communications Technology (ICT). This arose from a need for better prioritising, better sharing across the University, and clearly defined procedures for mainstreaming technology. At the highest level a Strategic ICT Advisory Group (SICTAG) has been formed to prioritise ICT projects and make recommendations for funding.

Recognising the importance of ICT for staff in their teaching practice an Educational Technology Advisory Group (ETAG) has also been established to provide advice within which the University has identified as the ‘Educational ICT Portfolio’. This ‘portfolio’ is regarded as comprising:

a. the eLearning environment for students and staff which complements both face to face and distance teaching and learning;
b. technologies which promote quality and flexibility in learning and teaching, and prepares students for living and working in the 21st century;
c. technologies which enhance efficiency for staff in their teaching, and increased engagement for students in their learning;
d. trends in educational uses of technology and positioning the University in a way to best utilise them.”

Geoff Anderson from the School of Social and Policy Studies and Debra Hackett from the e-Learning Unit are the faculty representatives on ETAG.

The new FLO is coming

One matter which is being discussed within ETAG is the rollout in 2012 of the new FLO which will result from the FLO upgrade.

FLO will be upgraded for the start of 2012. FLO is currently supported by the Blackboard Vista software. Blackboard Inc has advised us they intend to retire this product, with support ending in 2013. After an extensive 18-month evaluation process Flinders has made the decision to implement Moodle as the software to underpin FLO from the start of 2012.

The FLO Upgrade team will provide information throughout the remainder of 2011 via emails, website updates, and face-to-face information sessions, with training sessions held for staff later in the year.

For more information go to www.flinders.edu.au/cedict/flo-upgrade/

New FLO information sessions:
Monday 4 July, 12:00pm, Sturt S210
Friday 8 July, 11:30am, North Lecture Theatre 2
Monday 11 July, 12:30pm, Teletheatre
Wednesday 13 July, 2:00pm, Health Sciences 1.09

Online version of information sessions will be available from July.
