Enrolment Form 2013

The Qualifying Topic for the Graduate Diploma in Psychology (here: QT) is a web-based course providing an introduction to psychology. Its chief purpose is to allow graduates who hold a non-psychology degree to meet the criteria for commencing the Graduate Diploma in Psychology at Flinders University.

Note that the successful completion of this topic will not be recorded on your Academic Transcript. It is designed solely as a preparation and entry requirement for the Graduate Diploma in Psychology at Flinders University. Thus, the Qualifying Topic will not be acknowledged by other universities.

QT is structured in two Parts that correspond to the Flinders first-year topics PSYC1101/1104 and PSYC1102/1105. Successful completion of these two topics (or their equivalent at another University) is an entry requirement for the Graduate Diploma in Psychology at Flinders University. QT is an online course that allows university graduates to meet this requirement by studying at their own pace in their own time. Enrolment is possible any time, but the course has to be completed within 6 months from the date of enrolment. A time commitment of 6 weeks per part (i.e., 12 weeks) would be reasonable, although it can also be completed in a shorter period (depending on daily study time).

If you have already completed topic PSYC1101/1104 or topic PSYC1102/1105 at Flinders, then you can choose to enrol only in Part 2 or Part 1 of QT, respectively. If you have completed part of first-year psychology at another university, please contact the Director of Studies of the Graduate Diploma in Psychology* to discuss whether completion of Part 1, Part 2 or both is required.

Please type (or neatly print) all entries, abbreviating where necessary. Enrolment is possible at any time. Email to: psychology@flinders.edu.au
OR post to: Administrative Officer (QT), School of Psychology, Flinders University, GPO Box 2100, Adelaide SA 5001.
