

MICRO-CREDENTIALS IN WORKPLACE COACHING

MASTER THE ART OF WORKPLACE COACHING – YOUR PATH TO PROFESSIONAL IMPACT.

Two micro-credentials in Workplace Coaching are now on offer:

Workplace Coaching Level 1 (Foundational Skills)

Workplace Coaching Level 2 (Advanced Skills)

Coaching skills are indispensable for today's leaders and business partners. Whether you aim to integrate a coaching approach into your workplace or embark on a career in professional coaching, our courses will provide you with the tools and confidence to help individuals achieve their specific personal and professional goals, and to foster a coaching culture in an organisation.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Middle and senior level managers, Organisational Development and HR Management Consultants, Business Consultants, Trainers and Facilitators, Counsellors and Psychologists.

ABOUT THE COURSES

Our Workplace Coaching courses have been meticulously crafted, drawing upon both evidence-based research and International Coaching Federation (ICF) best practices, and incorporating a skills practice experience that is safe, confidential, and individually supported. If you don't choose to complete the assessments, you will receive a Certificate of Completion upon successfully completing all required elements.

Pathway to MBA

Successfully completing both Workplace Coaching Level 1 and Workplace Coaching Level 2 micro-credentials, will not only provide you with valuable skills, but you can also receive credit towards a topic in Flinders University's esteemed MBA or Graduate Certificate in Business Administration program, subject to entry requirements.

What is a micro-credential?

Micro-credentials are short courses that focus on specific areas of study and provide a verified assessment of skill competency. Unlike lengthy qualifications, micro-credentials are bite-sized, allowing you to pick and choose the topics of interest without committing to longer and more traditional forms of study. They can be taken as standalone units or you can stack multiple micro-credentials to create a larger evidence of study.

What is the advantage of doing a micro-credential?

One of the significant advantages of earning a micro-credential is the recognition it holds. Endorsed by Flinders University, your learning is acknowledged at a postgraduate level, and validated by a reputable, approved provider.

Professional accreditation

Although a universally acknowledged professional qualification for coaches doesn't exist, our program aligns with the International Coaching Federation (ICF) core competencies, and completion of Level 1 & 2 provides 61 hours of coach specific training which may count towards ACC coach credentialing through the ICF portfolio pathway.

WHY STUDY WITH US?

We provide face-to-face delivery.

The core parts of the training are delivered face-to-face. Why? In-person learning provides immediate feedback, fosters collaboration, and cultivates a deeper, more impactful learning experience. Our participants enjoy the energy, sharing insights, and building lasting connections with peers and facilitators.

Our approach is learn by doing – so you can be competent and confident to apply your skills immediately.

Our teaching is underpinned by leading edge theories and approaches to coaching, but we avoid complicated theory or theory overload! Instead, our training is immersive and hands-on - each workshop is intentionally designed to provide you time to try out a new concept and reflect during and in between sessions. In practice sessions, we use current real work issues - there are no role plays – and you get feedback from other participants and our facilitators. This approach helps you build competence and confidence, so you are coaching straight away.

Our courses are aligned to industry standards.

The courses are firmly grounded in the International Coaching Federation's (ICF) latest core coaching competencies and ethics - providing assurance and credibility of alignment to the international professional standards of coach training.

Taught by two professional coaches.

Two coaches co-facilitate throughout the whole program, ensuring you have the support, differing experiences, and feedback that you need.

Our coach facilitators are professional ICF credentialed coaches with extensive experience bringing leading edge skills and knowledge to coach training.

Supportive environment.

This isn't a one-size-fits-all program. We use and model a strengths-based approach, and focus on individualised professional growth, offering steadfast support every step of the way.

We set the stage for relaxed and effective learning - a stress-free zone where you can be your authentic self—open, curious, and creatively engaged.

Post workshop we provide mentoring and supervision in our virtual sessions. This means you can apply your newfound skills in real scenarios and then come back to get feedback and address any questions you've got.

WHAT PARTICIPANTS HAVE SAID

“

Action packed days but with plenty of reflection / feedback time and opportunity to embed the learning. Rarely get that opportunity in other training. Very positive, affirming, encouraging, supportive, constructive - with clear methodology and process that was engaging, challenging, and acknowledging of attendees.

“

Especially value the simple yet powerful models. The coaching model is fabulous; very helpful and it works so well. Both are excellent facilitators, excellent communication, rapport, pace, clarity and time for exploration. Great having two facilitators.

Rich and insightful! I have learnt so much had so many insights, discovered more about myself and developed new skills. The facilitators are incredibly knowledgeable and so generous with sharing their wisdom. Both maintained great energy throughout and I enjoyed their humour and honesty.
