Undertake necessary training and gain experience to be able to practice within this advanced area of Occupational Therapy.

Course content
This 10-day equivalent educational topic will explore key issues that impact upon driver assessment including medico-legal requirements, state legislation, driver cognitive, perceptual, visual and physical function, on-road assessment, and will assist participants in communicating appropriate recommendations and reports following assessment.

Learning objectives or outcomes
Describe models of driver behaviour and discuss the application of the Assessing Fitness to Drive Guidelines and Standards for Health Professionals in Australia within the context of federal and local legislation, ethical and medico-legal requirements

— Explore methods of assessment of visual, cognitive, perceptual and physical functioning and learn to analyse results for appropriate recommendations

— Review ergonomics and appropriate vehicle modifications.
— On-road assessment
— Observation and assessment tools
— Formulating and communicating assessment outcomes and recommendations
— Program planning, training, ergonomics, modifications and rehabilitation — Report writing and medico-legal.

Who should attend?
Registered Occupational Therapists with at least two years of clinical experience.

Facilitator(s)
Associate Professor Stacey George
Dr Angela Berndt

Credit
Students have the option to complete additional assessment to gain 9 units of credit towards an award program at Flinders University or UniSA.

When it's run
Online commencing 2nd March 2020; one-week intensive held 15th - 19th June 2020

How to apply
PDF registration form and then Flinders Uni online pay

Cost
Students have two options:
1. Complete the online and intensive coursework for $3,859.00 plus GST
2. Complete the online and intensive coursework plus additional assessment work for $6,303.50 plus GST to gain 9 units of credit towards an award topic, specifically a Graduate Certificate, Graduate Diploma or Masters of Clinical Rehabilitation at Flinders University, or a Masters of Health Science at the University of SA.

Mode of delivery
Online, face-to-face

Course location
Online, Intensive coursework held at Tonsley Campus and Flinders Medical Centre

For more information contact
Madeleine Wilkop
rehabilitation@flinders.edu.au

Continuing Professional Development (CPD) arrangements
This course complies with the professional development standards of health professional accreditation bodies and attendees may use these hours to accrue CPD points.

flinders.com.au