Postgraduate and Early Career Researcher AHA Conference Bursary

Call for Applications

The Australian Army History Unit will sponsor one HDR student and one ECR Historian to attend the 2024 AHA Conference at Flinders University.

Eligibility

Applicants must be presenting on a theme related to the history of the Australian Army. The interpretation of this requirement will be quite broad, and include papers related to relevant social, economic, environmental and other histories that have a demonstrated tie to the Australian Army. Applicants' papers should be available for inclusion in the War & Conflict stream sponsored by the AAHU.

Funding available

Sponsorship for the selected candidates will include:

- Return travel within Australia
- Accommodation
- AHA conference entry
- AHA conference dinner
- Meals and incidentals allowance.

Applicants should send their contact details (including email address, phone number and location), conference proposal (including bio and abstract), and an indication of whether they are a HDR student or an ECR to ahu.enquiries@defence.gov.au.

Applications close 31 March 2024

The sponsorship will be judged by a panel of researchers from the AAHU, and are assessed on originality, relevance, and merit of the research. If no suitable applications are received, the sponsorship will not be awarded this year.

Further enquiries can be directed to ahu.enquiries@defence.gov.au.
