Digital History Stream Bursaries

The Australian Research Data Commons (ARDC) will sponsor up to 4 research students or early-career scholars to attend the Conference who are presenting in the Digital History Stream. The scheme will cover the cost of recipients' registration to attend the conference, and provide up to $1000 towards travel, accommodation and other conference attendance costs.

Eligibility

This support scheme is open to postgraduate students and early career researcher historians who have little or no institutional support to cover their attendance at the annual AHA conference. Early career researchers up to 5 years following the passing of their thesis (taking into account career breaks such as parental or carer leave) are eligible. Applicants must be members of the AHA at the time of application.

Application

Applicants should complete the application form and submit to the Flinders organising team at aha2024@flinders.edu.au by 31 March 2024.

Selection Process

The Flinders organising committee in consultation with the Digital History Stream Convenor, Dr Tim Sherratt, will award the bursaries.
