

Position Description – Associate Professor in Public Health or Health Economics

Updated 17 March 2026

POSITION DETAILS
College	College of Medicine and Public Health
Organisational Unit	Public Health
Supervisor	Dean, People and Resources (or Delegate)
Classification	Academic Teaching & Research (Balanced) Level D
Employment Type	Continuing, full-time

POSITION SUMMARY
The Public Health Discipline Group includes a diverse range of Public Health expertise in Health Equity, Social Determinants of Health, Health Economics, First Nations Health, Biostatistics, Epidemiology, and Health Promotion. In addition, the Discipline Group collaborates strongly with other College disciplines such as Rural and Remote health, Primary Care, and Digital Health as we seek to progress a visionary agenda to achieve real outcomes that have direct impact and benefit to our community The Associate Professor will be a senior member of the academic staff in the area of Public Health in the College of Medicine and Public Health. In addition to leading quality research endeavours, the incumbent will, under broad supervision, provide leadership to our teaching programmes, including for the planning and delivery of topics, development of teaching materials, delivery of lectures/tutorials or other innovative teaching and learning strategies, developing assessment methods, and organising placement education. The incumbent may also be involved in teaching across other courses in the College or other Colleges, where appropriate. The incumbent will be required to provide leadership in strengthening existing partnerships or exploring new partnerships with external stakeholders that have potential for providing improved teaching, learning and/or research outcomes for the University. The incumbent will be involved in leading high quality research, including attracting competitive research grants and other sources of funding, publishing manuscripts in high impact journals, mentoring of early-career researchers and attracting and supervising research higher degree students. The incumbent will prioritise, coordinate, monitor workflow and provide informal day-to-day feedback to research support staff and casual academic teaching staff according to the University's policies, practices and standards.

UNIVERSITY EXPECTATIONS AND VALUES
All staff at Flinders are responsible for understanding their obligations and responsibilities as set out in the University's code of conduct and are expected to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • demonstrate commitment to the University's values of Integrity, Courage, Innovation, Excellence and the underlying ethos of being Student Centred; • contribute to the efficient and effective functioning of the team or work unit in order to meet the University's objectives. This includes demonstrating appropriate and professional workplace behaviours, providing assistance to team members if required and undertaking other key responsibilities or activities as directed by one's supervisor; • promote and support an inclusive workplace culture which values diversity and embraces the principles of equal opportunity;

- perform their responsibilities in a manner which reflects and responds to continuous improvement; and
- familiarise themselves and comply with the University's Work Health and Safety, Injury Management and Equal Opportunity policies.

A Nationally Coordinated Criminal History Check (NCCHC) which is satisfactory to the University will be required by Flinders University before the successful applicant can commence in this position.

Staff working in a health care setting are strongly recommended to be fully vaccinated against COVID in line with the SA Health policy

KEY POSITION RESPONSIBILITIES

The Associate Professor in Public Health and/or Health Economics is accountable for:

- Providing sustained leadership in teaching programs, primarily within Public Health and/or Health Economics.
- Making an outstanding high quality personal contribution to research and community service through original and innovative contributions, obtaining competitive research grants from outside the University and sustained publications within high quality publications.
- Playing a significant leadership role in the College/University and make a significant contribution to leadership at the national and/or international level within Public Health and/or Health Economics.
- Provide leadership in inspiring and innovative teaching informed by approaches that enhance the student experience.
- Undertake active leadership in ethical, high quality and innovative research through activities such as scholarship, quality publication, external grant acquisition, mentoring and developing early career researchers, supervision of students undertaking complex WIL, Honours and/or Research Higher Degrees and deliver high quality presentations that aligns with the College areas of research strength and focus.
- Provide leadership in College internal and external quality assurance and accreditation processes.
- Leading, supervising and participate in high performing multi-disciplinary teams with an education and research focus and contribute to the development of a respectful, trusting and collaborative working environment.
- Developing, establishing and maintaining strategic relationships and networks with a range of stakeholders including industry and professional associations and organisations, nationally and/or internationally.
- Providing leadership to the integration and management of aspects of the academic and administrative life of the College.
- Some out of hours work (including weekends) as well as rural SA, interstate and overseas travel, may be required.
- Any other responsibilities in line with the level of the position as assigned by the Supervisor and/or the University.

KEY POSITION CAPABILITIES

- Completion of a PhD, or equivalent qualification in health economics, public health, epidemiology, behavioural or social science, medicine or other health related field.
- Demonstrated evidence of a distinguished and active track record of teaching expertise in Public Health or Health Economics related field at tertiary level, including course leadership, leading curriculum development and/or role in national / international delivery and /or collaboration
- Evidence of educational leadership relevant to teaching and learning in higher education and demonstrated experience leading innovation in teaching and inspiring excellence amongst colleagues.

- Significant experience in curriculum development and teaching methodology for topics and programs of study, including reviews and internal and external accreditation activities.
- Demonstrated experience with engaging and developing flexible methods to deliver teaching programs such as through e-learning platforms and other communications technologies
- An established national or international reputation in research in an area aligned with the College's research strengths evidenced by sustained high quality publications and attraction of several competitive external grants.
- Demonstrated excellence in the supervision of honours and research higher degree students.
- Demonstrated contribution to the discipline and/or profession within a relevant external professional domain and within a wider community context at local, national and international level.
- A demonstrated strong track record of establishing effective research collaborations with external national and international partners.
- Demonstrated excellent oral and written communication skills and interpersonal skills, including the demonstrated evidence of the ability to develop, establish and maintain effective relationships with staff, students and industry.
- Experience working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander and/or the Indigenous peoples of other nations to improve health outcomes. (desirable)
- A track record demonstrating a focus on health equity and addressing health disparities. (desirable)
- Experience and expertise in research or teaching in public health policy or health economics applied to public health. (desirable)