

Purpose

The purpose of the scholarship is to provide financial assistance to Indigenous students undertaking an undergraduate course in Health Sciences at Flinders University.

Source of funds

A generous donation from the Trustees of the Estate of the late Peter Bailie, a former Director of Administration and Registrar of the University, established the Peter Bailie Scholarship in Clinical Nursing. After many years of supporting students undertaking postgraduate courses in Clinical Nursing and after consultation with the Trustees, the scholarships' focus has now shifted to reflect the life and work of Peter by encouraging the successful retention and graduation of Indigenous students in the Health Sciences.

Benefits

Each scholarship will have a value of $5000 paid in equal instalments after the census date of each semester.

Eligibility

Applicants for the scholarship must:

- be of Australian Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander descent; and
- identify as an Australian Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander; and
- be accepted as an Australian Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander by the community in which they live or have lived; and
- be enrolled in the third year of a health related course within the College of Medicine and Public Health or the College of Nursing and Health Sciences at Flinders University.

Tenure

The tenure is 1 year of full-time study (or part-time equivalent).

Leave

Leave from the scholarship can be taken concurrently with leave from study for a maximum of one semester.

Selection

The scholarship will be awarded on the basis of academic merit/financial need. Scholarship selection will be made in accordance with approved University procedures.

Applications

Applications should be submitted online through the Flinders University Student System by the specified closing date.

Advertising

The scholarship will be advertised on the University website and other appropriate media as determined by Flinders University.