

Purpose

This scholarship has been established to provide financial assistance to rural and remote students studying postgraduate programs in Primary Health Care (Diabetes Management and Education). It is anticipated that the successful recipient will demonstrate a commitment to working in the Northern Territory.

Source of funds

The scholarship has been made possible after a generous donation from the Connellan Airways Trust.

Benefits

Each scholarship will have a value of $2,000. Two scholarships will be available per annum until funds are exhausted.

Eligibility

Scholarship applicants must:

- be an Australian citizen, permanent resident or permanent humanitarian visa holder; and
- be enrolled in the Graduate Certificate in Primary Health Care (Diabetes Management and Education) at Flinders University; and
- be working or residing in an ASGS Remoteness Areas RA4 remote or RA5 very remote area;
- not be in receipt of another similar scholarship.

Applications

Applications should be submitted online through the Student Management System by the specified closing date.

Tenure

The tenure is for one year. The scholarship will be paid in two equal instalments, after the census date of each semester.

Selection

Whilst all eligible applicants are encouraged to apply, current Northern Territory residents (students who have lived in the Northern Territory for a minimum of 5 years) will be prioritised.

The level of remoteness of applicants permanent home address may also be used.

The scholarship will be awarded on the extent to which the student can demonstrate their commitment to working in the Northern Territory.

Advertising

The scholarship will be advertised on the University website and other appropriate media as

Connellan Airways Trust Diabetes Management and Education Scholarship

determined by Flinders University.