

Nick Llewellyn-Jones Indigenous Business Scholarship

Purpose

This scholarship supports Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students studying the Bachelor of Business, Business Economics, or Commerce at Flinders University, helping them to advance their business knowledge and skills.

Team Leader of the Native Title, Resources and Renewable Energy Team at Normans Waterhouse lawyers, Nick Llewellyn-Jones identified a need to develop greater Indigenous representation in commercial negotiation and business decision-making especially for projects and major developments which are undertaken on Native Title land.

Source of funds

The Scholarship has been established through a generous donation from Nick Llewellyn-Jones of Normans Waterhouse lawyers

Benefits

Each Scholarship will have a value of $10,000 per annum to be paid in equal instalments after the census date of each semester. One Scholarship will be available per annum for the duration of the funding period.

Eligibility

Applicants for the scholarship must:

- be of Australian Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander descent; and
- identify as an Australian Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander; and
- be accepted as an Australian Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander by the community in which they live or have lived; and
- normally be enrolled at full-time Flinders University*; and
- be enrolled in the second or subsequent year of the Bachelor of Business, Business Economics, or Commerce; and
- have a minimum GPA of 4.0; and
- be able to demonstrate an interest in a career in business; and
- not be in receipt of a similar scholarship.

Previous recipients may reapply; however, priority may be given to students who have not previously received this scholarship.

*Scholarships are available to part-time students in exceptional circumstances, which include (but are not limited to) disability, illness or carer responsibilities. Part-time scholarship recipients will receive the same annual value as full-time scholarship recipients.

Tenure

The scholarship is awarded for up to one year of full-time study.

Selection

The Scholarship selection will be based on academic merit and demonstrated interest in a career in business.

Preference will be given to applicants who are members of a Registered Native Title Body Corporate (RNTBC) in Australia, or who have a parent, sibling, or other culturally appropriate family member who is a current member of an RNTBC.

Nick Llewellyn-Jones Indigenous Business Scholarship

Selection of the recipient(s) will be made following procedures approved by the Director, Student Administration in consultation with the Office of Indigenous Strategy and Engagement.

Applications

Applications should be submitted online through the Flinders University Student System by the specified closing date.

Advertising

The availability of the scholarship will be described on the University website.