Gift Acceptance Policy

1. Purpose

a. Flinders University has a vision of teaching, research and engagement that changes lives and makes a positive difference to the communities we serve. Philanthropic support can have a major impact on the University advancing this mission.

b. This policy and its supporting procedures set out Flinders University's approach to philanthropy and gift acceptance, including for the information of donors and their advisors, which is to be ethical, professional, and to treat donors equitably.

c. This policy and its supporting procedures are aimed at:
   i. facilitating and acknowledging the contribution and support of individuals and organisations in enabling University and academic activity
   ii. earning and maintaining the respect and trust of donors and prospective donors
   iii. protecting academic freedom and the University’s integrity, reputation and independence/autonomy, and
   iv. ensuring the University complies with all relevant legislation.

2. Scope

a. This policy applies to all philanthropic support offered to the University, and must be applied by all staff, affiliates, volunteers, contractors and consultants when engaging in University-related philanthropic activities.

b. This policy does not apply to:
   i. agreements with a commercial element e.g. sponsorship or partnership arrangements
   ii. research grants and similar payments which are applied for and/or managed through Research Development and Support
   iii. University or Australian Government scholarships or prizes that are not funded by a gift, or
   iv. gifts offered privately to individual staff or affiliates, for example by companies, international dignitaries or collaborators—refer to the Outside Professional Activities Policy and Conflict of Interest Policy. For the avoidance of doubt, gifts proposed to be receipted by the University, or to be applied to purposes which will involve the use of University facilities or staff, are subject to this policy.
3. Deductible Gift Recipient Statement

Flinders University is endorsed as a Deductible Gift Recipient (DGR) by the Australian Taxation Office to accept tax-deductible gifts of money and property for the purpose of education and research in Australia.
