1. Purpose

The University recognises its duty of care to ensure, so far as is reasonably practicable the health and safety of its workers, students, visitors and other persons in its workplaces. This policy reinforces the University's commitment to:

- providing a safe and healthy working and learning environment
- achieving and maintaining high standards of work health, safety and injury management, and
- complying with work health and safety legislation

by setting out the requirements on all persons in its workplaces to support this commitment, and specifying governance and management responsibilities and authorities.

2. Scope

This policy applies to all Flinders University workers, students, visitors and other persons at all University workplaces including University controlled entities.

4. Policy Statement

- a. Health and safety is everyone's responsibility and all workers, students, visitors and other persons have a responsibility to contribute to a healthy and safe workplace.
- b. The key mechanisms for promoting continuous improvement in workplace health and safety, and reducing the number and impact of workplace injuries and illness, are set out in the Work Health and Safety Management System.
- c. The University is committed to, and requires the active support of all workers, students, visitors and other persons in its workplaces in fulfilling this commitment to:
 - i. complying with relevant work health and safety legislation
 - ii. implementing and regularly reviewing its Work Health and Safety Management System
 - iii. promoting safety leadership and an organisational culture where health and safety is an integral part of management and work, study and research
 - iv. taking a planned and systematic risk management approach to identifying hazards, assessing the risk, eliminating or minimising the risk, and monitoring and evaluating control measures
 - v. encouraging the raising of health and safety issues or concerns without fear of reprisal
 - vi. maintaining communication and consultation on work health and safety with staff and other workers, students, health and safety representatives, and other relevant persons conducting a business or undertaking.
 - vii. consulting, cooperating and coordinating with parties who manage or control those workplaces not under the University's control or management to ensure, as far as reasonable practicable, a safe workplace.
 - viii. making available relevant training, safe systems of work, instruction, information and supervision to workers and students to enable them to perform their duties and study safely and effectively
 - ix. maintaining an effective process for reporting and resolving health and safety issues
 - x. using internal and external expertise to improve workplace safety and injury management standards
 - xi. providing effective support to staff to optimise recovery and return to work in the event of a work-related injury, and
 - xii. managing workers' compensation claims promptly, fairly and equitably.
