Taking your first step into university life is a big change. New faces, new spaces, new experiences.

That’s why at Flinders, we do all we can to make your time at university the best it can be.

Our facilities are purpose-built for your study needs, providing the best the world has to offer.

Plugged into industry trends, professional placements and practical experiences, our teaching is designed to equip you with up-to-the-minute knowledge based on our world-class research. You’ll gain specialised skills and knowledge in your chosen field plus develop abilities in independent thinking, communication, collaboration, ethics and creativity – qualities that will prepare you to become an expert and innovator in your field.

Everything we do at Flinders is designed to give you the best possible study experience and prepare you not just to succeed, but to go beyond.

An incredible breadth of career opportunities awaits you in the corporate world, in the public sector or with non-government organisations. You could work locally for a government department or an SA-based business, pursue a corporate career helping set international policy, or help change the world with organisations like Amnesty International or Projects Abroad.

New in 2020
Flinders’ new degree will teach you the skills to play a part in world events, and drive political, social and economic change through exciting careers in the public, private and not-for-profit sectors.

This degree is for students with an interest in political and social questions that arise where they live and overseas. It is designed to equip a new generation of change makers for a new generation of challenges.

Study with SA’s largest group of International Relations and Political Science experts, and gain practical experience through industry placements and opportunities to travel to Indonesia, China, Japan, USA, and elsewhere, including unique internship opportunities with the US Congress (Washington) and Consulate (Melbourne).

Your studies could lead to a range of employment opportunities, including:
- policy analyst for business, government and NGOs
- diplomat or public service officer
- environment and climate companies, agencies and NGOs
- journalist or digital media content maker/manager
- international aide or development worker
- electorate officer
- research officer, analyst or assistant
- intelligence, security or political analyst
- risk manager or public relations specialist
- education – teacher, aid, administrator
- advocacy officer/researcher in the community sector
- human resources.

 SHAPE THE WORLD

STUDY INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS & POLITICAL SCIENCE AT FLINDERS
Bachelor of International Relations and Political Science

You could play a part in world events.

Prepare yourself for a successful career engaging with political, social and cultural issues in Australia and around the world. In this degree you’ll develop an understanding of how to drive policy development at home and abroad. You’ll graduate with a comprehensive understanding of key political, social, economic and strategic relations within the domestic and global communities.

• Learn the policy and political skills that will be needed by the policy-makers and leaders of tomorrow – in Australia and around the world.
• Ask the big questions about populism, nationalism and the issues that drive political and social change.
• Engage with burning political questions like tackling environmental change and managing migration.
• You’ll deepen your understanding of diplomacy in Asia, issues arising in developing economies and Australia’s relationship with the US.
• Study policy areas such as social policy, Indigenous affairs, multiculturalism, education, trade, economic development, foreign affairs and human rights.
• Explore the key political ideas that inspire people to action, historically and in our world today.
• Gain real-world understanding of how Parliament and public agencies work through placement opportunities.
• You’ll meet professionals working on current international ventures, and could build your international professional network with overseas study.
• Take opportunities for practical experience through Work Integrated Learning and industry placements.
• You could learn a new language by selecting language topics.
• Engage with the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade and defence officials in simulated activities.
• You can experience South Australian politics first-hand through the South Australian Parliamentary Internship and the South Australian Government Cabinet Office Internship, or take your studies overseas with the Washington Internship Program.

Opportunities include six internships in the United States Congress every year – we’ve had over 100 Flinders participants since the year 2000. There are also opportunities in Indonesia, and over 100 of our students have studied or worked in Indonesia in the last five years, some for a semester or more. For those interested in an experience closer to home, you can also participate in internationally relevant internships onshore, with a variety of organisations in Adelaide and across Australia.

Key affiliated international institutions include:
• Georgetown University – Washington, USA
• York University – Toronto, Canada
• Uppsala University – Uppsala, Sweden
• UNESCO-IHE, Institute for Water Research – The Netherlands
• Hiroshima University – Hiroshima, Japan
• Nankai University – Tianjin, China
• Parahyangan Catholic University – Bandung, Indonesia
• International Network of Universities.

Flinders University’s links with world-class universities and organisations enable you to undertake an exchange program or internship that will enhance your International Relations and Political Science experience.

Washington Internship Program

The Washington Internship Program provides you with an opportunity, unparalleled in Australia, to experience political life in Washington DC.

Flinders has been sending students on this unique seven-week placement in the US Congress since the program’s inception in 2000. Last year, we sent our 100th Washington Intern to Capitol Hill.

The program gives you a unique insight into US politics and appreciation of the workings of the American political system.

As a participant in the program, you will work full time in the office of a member of the United States Senate or the US House of Representatives. During this time, you are required to develop a research project, which will be the basis for your assessment. The placement contributes to the completion of your final year of study, or a component of your honours degree.

“My degree has taken me around the world, and in 2016 I interned in Washington DC for two months for Republican Congressman Billy Long. I was able to grasp a better understanding of the internal workings of American politics. I vastly improved my writing and research skills. I was able to network with a variety of people and organisations.”

Sarah Flynn, Bachelor of International Relations

“The opportunity to gain international work experience made Flinders a natural choice for me. I undertook the Washington Internship Program, which was incredible. I also did an internship with the United States Consulate General in Melbourne last year and found learning about diplomacy really fascinating.”
