Doctor of Medicine

“Medicine interested me and when I found out about postgraduate pathways, I thought it was possible to get in and it was a way I could make a difference and help other people.

Everyone at Flinders here in the Northern Territory is really helpful. They’re constantly checking in on us, making sure we have all the resources we need; if we’re struggling, they monitor us very closely. They’ll pull us in and have a chat. They’ll figure out the best way to help.”

Doctor of Medicine

Graduate well prepared for the challenges of internship and future professional training.

The Flinders Doctor of Medicine (MD) is the cornerstone of the University’s dynamic and highly regarded medical program. The MD delivers outstanding clinical and academic training, and draws on the innovation and excellence that characterises the University’s medical program.

Our degrees
Flinders University is recognised as a leader in medical teaching, and the curriculum of our medical program has been adopted by universities worldwide. All medical students at Flinders undertake medical work that integrates clinical medicine with a strong underpinning in biomedical science.

Our innovation
Our Bedford Park-based students learn in Australia’s first purpose-built academic medical centre – Flinders Medical Centre – where they are immersed in authentic, patient-centred clinical experiences from their first few weeks. Flinders was the first in Australia to develop a four-year graduate-entry medical program as an alternative to the traditional five-to-six-year courses. We were also the first to offer a full year of rural clinical practice and the first to offer a full medical program in the Northern Territory.

Our international links
Flinders has established partnerships with international institutions throughout Asia, Europe and the Americas. We have links with universities, colleges and research institutions which provide valuable opportunities for student and staff exchanges, joint research and teaching programs. Our international students represent a quarter of our overall students and come from over 90 countries globally. We are current and active members of the International Network of Universities and Innovative Research Universities Australia, of which we are one of only nine universities in Australia represented.

Our community engagement
The Flinders medical program is embedded in health services across Australia – from Flinders Medical Centre to multiple regional, rural and remote communities in the Northern Territory, South Australia and Victoria. Flinders has a strong commitment to building the rural and remote health workforce by delivering innovative clinical placements in these areas.

Our commitment to diversity and equity
Flinders values diversity and equity, and encourages applicants from a variety of backgrounds. The MD is focused on providing you with an understanding of social accountability, and graduates are prepared with leadership qualities, knowledge and skills that enable them to practise in under-served communities.

Our commitment to Indigenous health
The Flinders MD recognises and values the contribution that Indigenous knowledge and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander doctors make to the health of our country. Our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander and non-Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander academic staff will lead you to a greater understanding of this heritage, and teach you how to work safely and confidently in a multicultural society.

Our alumni and staff
Our alumni and staff are leaders in the field of medicine. Former students and staff of the Flinders medical program include Professor Nicola Spurrier (Chief Public Health Officer for SA Health), Professor Michael Kidd AM (Principal Medical Advisor and Deputy Chief Medical Officer with the Department of Health, Australia), Professor Chris Baggoley AO (Australia’s Chief Medical Officer 2011-2016), Professor Paddy PhNips (Chief Medical Officer of South Australia), Professor Steve Wesselingh (Executive Director, South Australian Health and Medical Research Institute), Professor Air Vice Marshal (net) Tracy Lee Smart AO and Dr Richard Harris AO (2019 Australian of the Year), among others.

Find your own path
There’s more than one way to get into the Flinders Doctor of Medicine.

Undergraduate entry
If you have completed Year 12 and wish to study medicine in Adelaide or the Northern Territory, you can apply for admission to a double-degree pathway which enables you to enter Flinders’ medical program without having to complete a separate undergraduate degree first. This pathway enables you to complete a Bachelor of Clinical Science with the Doctor of Medicine (MD) in just six years. Note that a minimum GPA is required to progress from Clinical Sciences to the MD.

Graduate entry
Flinders University offers graduate entry to the MD in Adelaide and the Northern Territory, providing an alternative to the pathway from secondary school to an undergraduate medical course. The program enables you to graduate with a medical qualification in four years of full-time study.

Health pathways
Flinders graduate sub-quotas
Up to 45 per cent of places in the Doctor of Medicine are for applicants who hold Flinders qualifications and meet the admission requirements. In addition, up to 30 per cent of places are reserved for applicants who hold Flinders degrees in medical science, paramedic science and public health. Information can be found at flinders.edu.au/md.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander applicants
A key priority of the Northern Territory and Commonwealth governments is to increase the participation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students in medical training. Flinders University’s Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Entry Stream is available to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students who wish to study medicine either in Adelaide or in the Northern Territory. For this stream, you may apply directly to Flinders University for graduate entry to the Doctor of Medicine without having to sit the Graduate Medical School Admissions Test.

Rural applicants
Consistent with Flinders University’s commitment to improve the health of those in rural and remote areas, at least 28 per cent of Commonwealth supported places for graduate entry to the MD are reserved for students who come from a rural background. This includes a sub-quotas of up to 36 places allocated each year for students from rural communities who apply to undertake the entire third year of the MD in one of four rural locations.

Northern Territory Medical Program
Flinders University, in partnership with Charles Darwin University, offers undergraduate and graduate entry to the Flinders Doctor of Medicine in Darwin through the Northern Territory Medical Program (NTMP). Whether you are a school leaver or university graduate in the Territory, the NTMP allows you to undertake your entire medical training in the Northern Territory. Places are only available to Australian citizens and permanent residents.

“I originally chose Flinders as they have one of the best facilities for future teachers and fantastic student engagement. Studying at Flinders has been a wonderful experience that has given me the opportunity to discover what I truly want into the future while also providing me with support in every way imaginable. Flinders and Yungkurrinthi have given me the opportunity to meet others with similar ambitions and goals as myself and find the benefit of an education in places I would never have thought to look. As a proud Indigenous woman, I want to use my degree to work in First Nation communities to help our young people make it through their high schooling experience and onto their own future aspirations.”

Admission pathway
Any one of the options available to a prospective higher education student that will enable them to meet the entry requirements of their chosen courses.

ATAR
The Australian Tertiary Admission Rank (ATAR) is a ranking from 30 (lowest) to 99.95 (highest) agreed by COAG as a nationally equivalent measure of a person’s relative academic ranking within their complete age cohort in the year they graduated from senior secondary school.

Adjustment factors
Often referred to as ‘bonus points’, these are additional points that may be used in combination with an applicant’s university aggregate to derive their course selection rank.

Deferred
Delaying the start of a course of study by one year (commencing students only). If you have already enrolled, then you need to withdraw from topics before you can defer.

Not all courses are deferrable. Please visit flinders.edu.au/defer for details.

Guaranteed entry selection rank
Achieve a selection rank equal to or above the published guaranteed entry selection rank and you’ll be guaranteed a place at Flinders.

Major
A sequence of topics required to be taken as defined in your course rule, normally across all years of a course.

Minor
A sequence of topics required to be taken as defined in your course rule, generally as part of a major.

Offer round/s
Refers to the series of dates on which offers of higher education places are issued to applicants throughout the year, whether through a tertiary admission centre or directly by a higher education provider.

Selection rank
The ranking that tertiary admission centres and most universities actually use to assess admission to a course. A person’s course selection rank can include their ATAR, any adjustments they are eligible for, such as equity or subject adjustments, other contributions calculated on the basis of work experience or previous non-secondary study, portfolio assessments, results of the Special Tertiary Admissions Test, other supplementary tests, etc.

Listing your SATAC preferences
You may enter up to six course preferences that you would like to study. You should list these in the order in which you’d like to study them, with the one you would like most listed first. If you cannot be offered a place in your first preference, you will then be considered for your second preference and so on. It is also important to consider a backup plan. Ensure you include our recommended pathway courses in your preferences.
