2016 ACH Group Student of the Year

Flinders social work student Hayley Chenoweth was named an ACH Group Student of the Year in 2016.

The award, given to students who have completed a placement with ACH, recognises how well the students aligned with ACH's culture and values.

ACH Group is a not-for-profit organisation that promotes initiatives and services for older people.

"My social work degree has prepared me for my career in several ways and equipped me with numerous theories and tools that I can incorporate into my future practice when working with clients.

I completed my first placement with ACH (Aged Care and Housing) where I had the privilege of working within a multidisciplinary team with some extremely passionate, inspiring, hardworking professionals. Working in their team allowed me to understand my role as a social worker and, consequently, assisted me in developing my own social work identity.

I learnt more than I could have ever anticipated. The thing I did not anticipate was how much my clients taught me. They taught me many life lessons that have helped me grow as a person – that is something I will treasure forever and I hope to incorporate them into my personal and professional life."

THE ADVOCATE

Associate Professor Lorna Hallahan
Head and Teaching Program Director, Social Work

Lorna Hallahan is committed to fundamental rights, decency and an understanding of the challenges faced by marginalised people in the community.

The chance to teach and research in the social work discipline brought Associate Professor Hallahan to Flinders in 2006.

Her passion for advocacy and experience in the disability sector has subsequently led to a range of state and national roles – most recently being appointed by the Federal Government as one of four people overseeing a formal evaluation of the National Disability Insurance Scheme.

She first became aware of disability issues when diagnosed with cancer at the age of 16. By the time she had turned 18, she had endured aggressive chemotherapy, the loss of one leg and nine months in a residential rehabilitation facility. With a despised (and soon discarded) prosthetic leg, she eventually regathered her mobility. The experience ultimately inspired her.

"Disability is not a core part of my identity but it is a core part of my life experience and shapes my view of the world," Associate Professor Hallahan said.

"I knew once I left the rehabilitation clinic I would be back with my family and would continue with my education, but there were a lot of people who had been knocked off track, who wouldn't ever have the benefits of an income or the opportunity to feel they were contributing to the wider community," Associate Professor Hallahan said.

"When I left there in that terribly solemn way that 16 and 17 year-olds do, I thought I can walk away from them but I am not going to leave them behind.

"I am in that less than one per cent globally of people with access to all the good things in life, so I have no story of oppression of my own; but I have seen the lives of people who don't have that option.

"My experience with witnessing poverty, disability and other life hurdles that other people have encountered has been critically important in shaping my understanding of effective social policy."

ADMISSION PATHWAYS

At Flinders we recognise that every prospective student is an individual and that what works for one might not be right for another.

That's why we provide various admission pathways into Flinders University and your preferred degree. You're encouraged to explore your options and find the entry path that's right for you.

Year 12 entry

The majority of Year 12 applicants enter university via the traditional competitive entry method, where offers are made to eligible applicants with the highest selection rank until all places in the degree are filled. Your selection rank is used by Flinders to assess your admission to a course, and is based on your ATAR plus any adjustment factors for which you are eligible. The 2018 selection rank shown for each degree indicates the lowest rank for which an offer was made to an applicant in that degree for that year (including any adjustment factors). It is provided only as a guide for 2019 entry as it may change from year to year.

Adjustment factors

Adjustment factors (formerly referred to as bonus points) may be used in combination with your ATAR to derive your course selection rank. Adjustment factors may be available for South Australian Year 12 students applying for entry to Flinders in 2019: the SA Universities Equity Scheme (UES) and the SA Language, Literacy and Mathematics Bonus Scheme (LLM).

Guaranteed entry selection rank

Achieve a selection rank equal to or above the published guaranteed entry selection rank and you'll be guaranteed a place at Flinders. All you need to do is ensure you have listed Flinders degrees first in your preferences and you will be offered a place in the highest Flinders degree preference that you are eligible for in 2019.

uniTEST

If you're a school leaver, uniTEST is your chance to increase your options to gain a place in your preferred degree. uniTEST is designed for school leavers and complements existing selection criteria by enhancing your overall selection rank.

Flinders UniLeap

Flinders UniLeap can help you qualify for entry into a Flinders University degree in four weeks. It's a free intensive four-week program that has been designed for school leavers, to develop their independent learning skills and prepare them for university study.

You'll receive an offer to both TAFE SA and Flinders University and, on successful completion of the TAFE course, you'll have secured an offer for a Flinders degree. ### BACHELOR OF GENERAL STUDIES

The Bachelor of General Studies is a flexible degree that provides a sound basis of knowledge in an area of your choice. It is designed to prepare you with communication skills, a firm grasp of ethics, and the confidence to make connections across geographical, disciplinary, social and cultural boundaries. Successful completion of the first year to the required standard also provides you with guaranteed entry into a range of our degrees.

GET MORE OUT OF YOUR DEGREE

Whatever you're studying, Flinders gives you the opportunity to do more with your degree, giving you a competitive edge with a minimum of extra time spent studying.

Combined degrees

A combined degree is a combination of two Flinders bachelor degrees. As a combined degree graduate you will have two qualifications in just one to one-and-a-half years of extra study.

Our combined degree programs are designed to enhance your educational, academic and professional qualifications while minimising the cost and length of your studies. Flinders combined degrees allow you to undertake in-depth study in exciting combinations that aren't usually available in single degrees. Many graduates believe that a combined degree gives them an advantage for employment.
