

Flinders University

Allied Health

Explore your career in Allied Health at Flinders

Influence the future of health and go beyond the ordinary in one of Australia's fastest growing industries – and prepare yourself for a career with global job opportunities. From treating patients in health clinics, providing preventative self-care, influencing health care policy in government agencies or undertaking life-changing research, the opportunities are limitless.

With over 26 globally recognised health and medical research institutes and centres on campus, studying in Australia at Flinders University will link you to world-renowned researchers.

Courses available

- Master of Audiology
- Master of Clinical Rehabilitation
- Master of Nutrition and Dietetics
- Master of Occupational Therapy
- Master of Physiotherapy
- Master of Speech Pathology.

Connect with industry leaders

- Strong partnerships with organisations such as the Local Health Networks, Department for Education, and aged care service providers
- Flinders has the highest number of placement hours for a speech pathology degree in Australia, including opportunities overseas
- Undertake placements at childcare centres, state and independent schools, disability services, hospitals, rehabilitation centres, community health centres and aged care facilities.

Learn in state-of-the-art facilities

- Work with clients alongside professional clinicians in Flinders own purpose-built clinic, Health2Go
- Gain real-life experience while you study.

Enjoy a supportive, student-centred learning environment

- Smaller cohort
- Personal approach to learning
- Strong, long-lasting connections with teachers.

No. 1 in SA
in health services and support for full-time employment and median salary

The Good Universities Guide 2022 (undergraduate), public SA-founded universities only

Become a sought-after, multi skilled and career ready graduate

- Strong focus on an integrated enquiry-based curriculum. This approach is supported by a wide variety of teaching and learning strategies including case study tutorials, lectures, workshops, and clinical skills practicals.
- Partnered with work integrated learning, interprofessional and evidence-based practice means we produce high quality, work ready and future proofed students for our profession.
- Flinders graduates have an excellent understanding of person centred care and can work in a team of professionals to achieve the optimal outcomes.
- Flinders graduates have an excellent reputation within the health industry.

“Studying at Flinders was by far the best choice and Flinders has a good reputation of graduates. It’s not always about university rankings! For me personally, university ranking does not mean anything, but the well-structured course and the practical knowledge that we acquired? That’s important.”

Lacey Mengshu Wu,
Master of Audiology, Taiwan

Projected employment growth 2021 to 2026

34.7% ↑

Audiologists & Speech Pathologists

(National Skills Commission, 2021)

Scan for more info

Flinders.edu.au